

March 8, 2018

Attendance Policy

The LL.M. in International Business Law is designed to be a small interactive program in which student participation is essential. Courses are dynamic and discussion and projects are an integral part of the program. Attendance at classes is mandatory. Occasional absences or illness are excused but prolonged absences must be approved by the Academic Coordinator. In order to graduate students are expected to attend classes over the course of the year.